WELCOME

Welcome to my website. I am an educator, author, presenter and inclusive learning consultant with a passion for accessibility and universal design. My first book, Mobile Learning for All: Supporting Accessibility with the iPad is now available for order

from Corwin Press. It focuses on empowering students of all levels of ability through the application of universal design for learning principles with the iPad. I hope you find the book and the resources I have compiled on this site helpful in your own work.
